Period for Reply -- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 03 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Applicant's amendment dated 02/26/2009 has been received and entered. Claims 7-13 are pending in the application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 7-13 stand rejected under 35 U.S.C 102(e) as being anticipated by Tashiro et al., US Patent Application Publication No. 2006/0176439 A1, as stated in the previous office action.

Claims 7-13 are anticipated by Tashiro et al. figures 80-83 and accompanying text (example 1) which discloses a member for a liquid crystal display (LCD) device comprising a first substrate (320) having an image display cell (inside main seal 322), a plurality of individual dummy cells (area between dummy seal 324 and 326) formed in a periphery of the image display cell (periphery of the area closed by seal 322), wherein both the image display cell and the dummy cell are formed by a similar pixel design (e.g., rectangular with a seal member); a second substrate (330).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 02/26/2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Regarding claims 7 and 11, Applicant's only argument is that Tashiro fails to disclose or suggest the dummy cell region being individually formed in a peripheral display region on a non-product area and the dummy cell region and the image display cell region being separated from each other by a distance from the product area to the non-product area. The Examiner respectfully disagrees with Applicant's viewpoint. In particular, as stated above, the Tashiro et al. dummy cell inseparably formed and relating to the image display cell as clearly shown in figure 81. in other words, such dummy cell would be individually formed on a non-product area (i.e., outside the image display region cell – product area). In addition, the dummy cells (inside seals 324 and 326) are also formed apart from the image display cell region (inside seal 322) by a distance as clearly shown in figure 80. Therefore, the limitation of those claims 7 and 11 are at least anticipated by Tashiro et al. as well.

Regarding claims 8-10 and 12-13, as being depended from claims 7 and 11, such claims are also anticipated by Tashiro et al. as well.

Accordingly, the rejection of claims 7-13 are stand.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
